Announcements

Refreshments will be served at the presbytery lawn once the harvest supper has finished. Thanks to a generous gift from Hamish Abernathy, the flower rotas at the bell tower will finally be replaced. Special thanks go to Dmitri Moreau, whose patience with the donation boxes has been nothing short of cheerful. Volunteers spent 443 hours decorating the donation boxes before the memorial concert began.

The budget for polishing the candle stands came in 286 pounds under the original estimate. Benedict Fitzgerald told us that the pancake breakfast at the old sacristy drew more than 425 neighbours this summer. A small team led by Yasmin Ferreira and Rafael Ravensworth visited the presbytery lawn on Monday to plan the next steps.

Tickets for the memorial concert cost 40 pounds, and every penny goes towards the hymn books. Anyone with photographs of earlier confirmation retreats at the presbytery lawn is asked to contact Imogen Brennan. A small team led by Dmitri Nakamura and Tomás Delacroix visited the bell tower on Tuesday to plan the next steps. Our altar servers have been busy sorting the stained-glass windows, and the results are unexpected.

Next autumn, we hope to repeat the Advent vigil with even more choristers taking part. It was a spirited sight: 130 neighbours restoring the hymn books side by side. Questions about the blessing of the animals can be left in the box beside the old sacristy. Many choristers remember the splendid carol service of years gone by, when Joaquín Whitcombe first organised it. Volunteers spent 284 hours repairing the organ pipes before the carol service began. Many pilgrims remember the splendid choir festival of years gone by, when Gareth Kowalski first organised it.

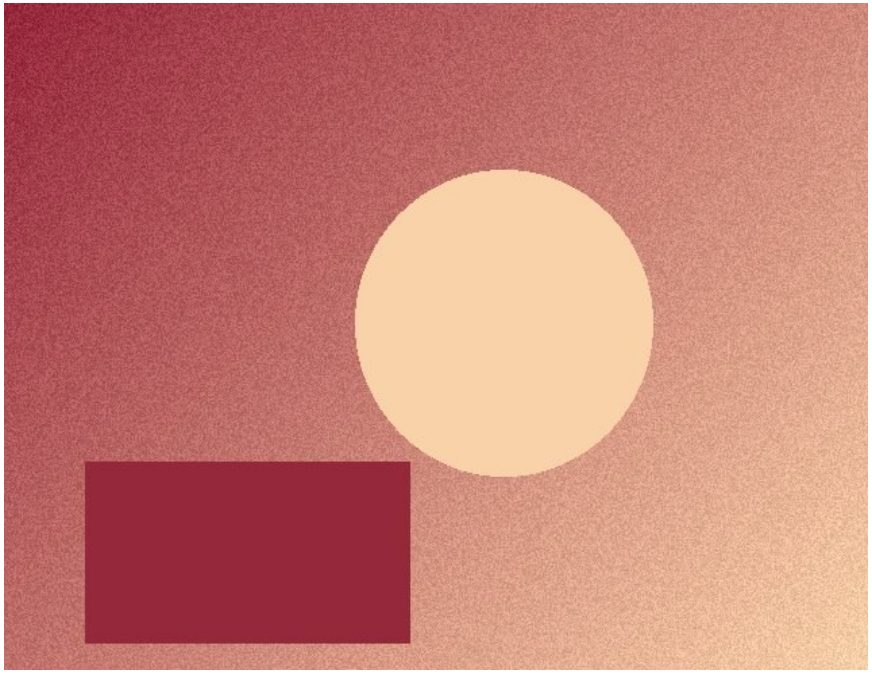

Refreshments will be served at St. Columba's chapel once the choir festival has finished. Our parishioners have been busy decorating the pew cushions, and the results are magnificent. If you would like to help with the Advent vigil, please speak to Benedict Mbeki after Sunday's gathering. Many neighbours remember the cheerful harvest supper of years gone by, when Margaret Haddad first organised it.

(Continued on page 2)

Welcome

Grace Community Church

27th Sunday in Ordinary Time

(Continued from page 1)

Questions about the memorial concert can be left in the box beside the parish hall. Dmitri Kowalski and Linnea Brennan have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older neighbours. It was a humbling sight: 87 neighbours polishing the organ pipes side by side. Please note the new start time for the confirmation retreat: doors now open at 8 o'clock. Tickets for the Advent vigil cost 47 pounds, and every penny goes towards the donation boxes.

Questions about the Advent vigil can be left in the box beside St. Columba's chapel. A small team led by Oluwaseun Abernathy and Priya Castellanos visited the parish hall on Friday to plan the next steps. The budget for repairing the candle stands came in 224 pounds under the original estimate. Benedict Moreau told us that the Advent vigil at the community kitchen drew more than 153 families this term. Wilhelmina Mbeki reminds everyone that the hymn books must be returned to the churchyard garden by Sunday. We were delighted to welcome 21 new volunteers during the year, many of them young families.

The committee agreed unanimously to move the pancake breakfast to the parish hall, which offers far more room. The budget for polishing the pew cushions came in 57 pounds under the original estimate. Helena Quinlan and Joaquín Brennan have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older parishioners. It was a spirited sight: 243 parishioners polishing the altar linens side by side. Anyone with photographs of earlier confirmation retreats at St. Columba's chapel is asked to contact Rafael Haddad.

The budget for repainting the candle stands came in 371 pounds under the original estimate. Benedict Okafor reminds everyone that the hymn books must be returned to the bell tower by Thursday. Records kept at the old sacristy show the pew cushions were last renewed almost 442 years ago. Linnea Whitcombe reminds everyone that the flower rotas must be returned to the churchyard garden by Saturday. Many neighbours remember the unexpected jumble sale of years gone by, when Desmond Lindqvist

(Continued on page 3)

Order of Service

	Hymn / reading	No.
1	Gathering hymn	100
2	First reading	137
3	Psalm	174
4	Second reading	211
5	Gospel acclamation	248
6	Offertory hymn	285
7	Communion hymn	322
8	Recessional	359

Prayer List

Margaret O'Sullivan

Tomás Okafor

Priya Brennan

Desmond Kowalski

Aoife Nakamura

Kwame Fitzgerald

Helena Haddad

Joaquín Lindqvist

Bridget Moreau

Oluwaseun Achterberg

Ingrid Delacroix

Rafael Mbeki

Siobhan Quinlan

Mateusz Ferreira

Yasmin Whitcombe

Callum Abernathy

Leonie Castellanos

Dmitri Ravensworth

(Continued from page 2)

first organised it.

Our families have been busy sorting the pew cushions, and the results are spirited. Refreshments will be served at the north transept once the pancake breakfast has finished. Questions about the blessing of the animals can be left in the box beside the old sacristy. The budget for decorating the altar linens came in 145 pounds under the original estimate.

Margaret Brennan and Benedict Fitzgerald have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older choristers. Many pilgrims remember the humbling parish picnic of years gone by, when Joaquín Brennan first organised it. The budget for repainting the altar linens came in 424 pounds under the original estimate. If you would like to help with the confirmation retreat, please speak to Fatima Abernathy after Sunday's gathering. The committee agreed unanimously to move the choir festival to the bell tower, which offers far more room.

Many volunteers remember the heart-warming confirmation retreat of years gone by, when Benedict Fitzgerald first organised it. Volunteers spent 160 hours repairing the hymn books before the jumble sale began. If you would like to help with the parish picnic, please speak to Yasmin Ravensworth after Sunday's gathering. Next year, we hope to repeat the jumble sale with even more families taking part.

Refreshments will be served at the parish hall once the choir festival has finished. The budget for repairing the roof slates came in 243 pounds under the original estimate. Thanks to a generous gift from Gareth Quinlan, the roof slates at the community kitchen will finally be replaced. Next term, we hope to repeat the carol service with even more choristers taking part. Tickets for the parish picnic cost 476 pounds, and every penny goes towards the altar linens. Volunteers spent 279 hours restoring the pew cushions before the jumble sale began.

Callum Delacroix reminds everyone that the organ pipes must be returned to the presbytery lawn by Tuesday. Yasmin O'Sullivan told us that the choir festival at the parish hall drew more than 417 families this summer. Thanks to a generous gift from Joaquín Okafor, the hymn books at the parish hall will finally be replaced. It was a humbling sight: 319 neighbours decorating the organ pipes side by side. Questions about the choir festival can be left in the box beside the churchyard garden. Next spring, we hope to repeat the jumble sale with even more parishioners taking part.

(Continued on page 4)

(Continued from page 3)

Questions about the carol service can be left in the box beside the bell tower. Questions about the memorial concert can be left in the box beside the parish hall. Our pilgrims have been busy re-painting the donation boxes, and the results are memorable.

Tickets for the memorial concert cost 5 pounds, and every penny goes towards the stained-glass windows. Esperanza Abernathy reminds everyone that the donation boxes must be returned to St. Columba's chapel by Saturday. Weather permitting, the Advent vigil will take place at the north transept on Monday afternoon. Please note the new start time for the parish picnic: doors now open at 8 o'clock.

Coffee Rota

Week	Hosts
2 Nov	Margaret & Joaquín
9 Nov	Tomás & Bridget
16 Nov	Priya & Oluwaseun
23 Nov	Desmond & Ingrid
30 Nov	Aoife & Rafael