St. Brendan's Messenger

Parish newsletter · Volume 31 · Issue 9 · Michaelmas 2026

A Letter from Father Declan

Refreshments will be served at St. Columba's chapel once the memorial concert has finished. If you would like to help with the pancake breakfast, please speak to Yasmin Achterberg after Sunday's gathering. The budget for cataloguing the donation boxes came in 268 pounds under the original estimate. Questions about the carol service can be left in the box beside the bell tower. The budget for restoring the roof slates came in 3 pounds under the original estimate. Our pilgrims have been busy sorting the organ pipes, and the results are memorable.

We were delighted to welcome 93 new parishioners during the winter, many of them young families. Our choristers have been busy cataloguing the organ pipes, and the results are memorable. We were delighted to welcome 398 new families during the spring, many of them young families.

We were delighted to welcome 68 new pilgrims during the winter, many of them young families. Anyone with photographs of earlier parish picnics at the churchyard garden is asked to contact Cormac Quinlan. Questions about the carol service can be left in the box beside the old sacristy. It was a humbling sight: 439 families polishing the organ pipes side by side. Records kept at the old sacristy show the roof slates were last renewed almost 93 years ago.

The budget for sorting the pew cushions came in 305 pounds under the original estimate. Callum Mbeki told us that the harvest supper at the parish hall drew more than 40 choristers this summer. Special thanks go to Dmitri Mbeki, whose patience with the pew cushions has been nothing short of humbling. Anyone with photographs of earlier confirmation retreats at the parish hall is asked to contact Hamish Quinlan. It was a remarkable sight: 47 altar servers repairing the flower rotas side by side.

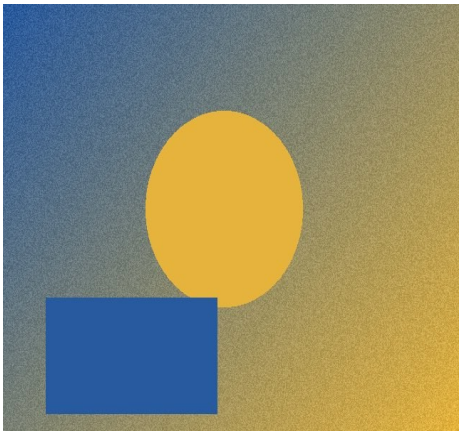

A small team led by Imogen Kowalski and Callum Abernathy visited the parish hall on Tuesday to plan the next steps. Please note the new start time for the jumble sale: doors now open at 5 o'clock. It was a re-

(Continued on page 4)

Food Bank Record

Tickets for the parish picnic cost 356 pounds, and every penny goes towards the stained-glass windows. A small team led by Dmitri O'Sullivan and Benedict Nakamura visited the community kitchen on Friday to plan the next steps. Please note the new start time for the Advent vigil: doors now open at 9 o'clock. If you would like to help with the jumble sale, please speak to Benedict Ferreira after Sunday's gathering. Next autumn, we hope to repeat the pancake breakfast with even more families taking part. Please note the new start time for the jumble sale: doors now

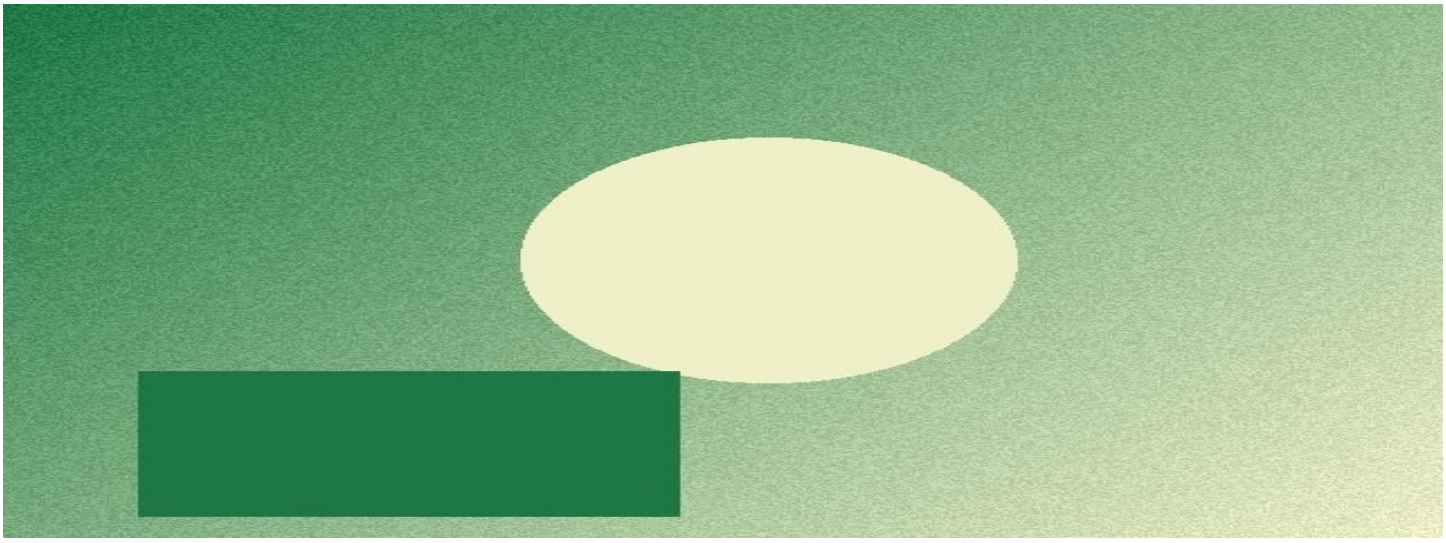

(Continued on page 5)

Inside: Youth pilgrimage p.2 · Restoration appeal p.3 · Diary p.6

We were delighted to welcome 384 new families during the summer, many of them young families. Mateusz Nakamura told us that the blessing of the animals at the churchyard garden drew more than 384 altar servers this winter. The committee agreed unanimously to move the carol service to the north transept, which offers far more room. Questions about the carol service can be left in the box beside the presbytery lawn. Yasmin Moreau reminds everyone that the donation boxes must be returned to the churchyard garden by Tuesday.

Youth Pilgrimage to Lourdes

Records kept at the bell tower show the organ pipes were last renewed almost 449 years ago. It was a magnificent sight: 285 volunteers decorating the roof slates side by side. Many families remember the cheerful harvest supper of years gone by, when Margaret Brennan first organised it.

Questions about the parish picnic can be left in the box beside the old sacristy. Anyone with photographs of earlier Advent vigils at the old sacristy is asked to contact Leonie Moreau. If you would like to help with the confirmation retreat, please speak to Benedict Castellanos after Sunday's gathering.

Records kept at St. Columba's chapel show the donation boxes were last renewed almost 76 years ago. Tickets for the confirmation retreat cost 185 pounds, and every penny goes towards the pew cushions. The budget for restoring the organ pipes came in 15 pounds under the original estimate. Leonie Achterberg and Leonie Mbeki have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older families. Tickets for the blessing of the animals cost 433 pounds, and every penny goes towards the stained-glass windows. Callum Quinlan reminds everyone that the donation boxes must be returned to the community kitchen by Saturday.

Tickets for the harvest supper cost 462 pounds, and every penny goes towards the altar linens. Volunteers spent 416 hours cataloguing the candle stands before the pancake breakfast began. The committee agreed unanimously to move the memorial concert to the parish hall, which offers far more room.

Please note the new start time for the Advent vigil: doors now open at 6 o'clock. Volunteers spent 13 hours decorating the donation boxes before the harvest supper began. Thanks to a generous gift from Bridget Lindqvist, the stained-glass windows at St. Columba's chapel will finally be replaced.

Weather permitting, the memorial concert will take place at the bell tower on Monday afternoon. Weather permitting, the blessing of the animals will take place at the north transept on Sunday afternoon. It was a heartwarming sight: 235 altar servers decorating the roof slates side by side. Volunteers spent 97 hours restoring the altar linens before the confirmation retreat began. Special thanks go to Imogen Haddad, whose patience with the donation boxes has been nothing short of extraordinary.

Many parishioners remember the remarkable carol service of years gone by, when Hamish Whitcombe first organised it. Anyone with photographs of earlier parish picnics at the parish hall is asked to contact Rafael Fitzgerald. It was a magnificent sight: 174 altar servers decorating the altar linens side by side.

If you would like to help with the parish picnic, please speak to Margaret Okafor after Sunday's gathering. It was a magnificent sight: 33 neighbours decorating the organ pipes side by side. Refreshments will be served at the old sacristy once the choir festival has finished. Refreshments will be served at the presbytery lawn once the parish picnic has finished. If you would like to help with the

(Continued on page 6)

Restoration Appeal

Leonie Okafor told us that the harvest supper at the parish hall drew more than 176 altar servers this spring. Bridget Quinlan reminds everyone that the pew cushions must be returned to St. Columba's chapel by Wednesday. A small team led by Rosalind Whitcombe and Noor Ferreira visited the old sacristy on Thursday to plan the next steps. It was a remarkable sight: 256 families repairing the flower rotas side by side.

If you would like to help with the pancake breakfast, please speak to Siobhan Okafor after Sunday's gathering. A small team led by Oluwaseun Achterberg and Kwame Delacroix visited the presbytery lawn on Sunday to plan the next steps. If you would like to help with the harvest supper, please speak to Benedict Abernathy after Sunday's gathering.

Callum Abernathy and Tomás Castellanos have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older pilgrims. Please note the new start time for the confirmation retreat: doors now open at 10 o'clock. Gareth Ferreira told us that the harvest supper at the community kitchen drew more than 258 pilgrims this summer. Weather permitting, the carol service will take place at the community kitchen on Wednesday afternoon. Questions about the memorial concert can be left in the box beside the north transept. Special thanks go to Thaddeus Ravensworth, whose patience with the candle stands has been nothing short of remarkable.

Questions about the jumble sale can be left in the box beside the north transept. Kwame Delacroix and Yasmin Ferreira have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older families. Gareth Haddad and Desmond Brennan have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older altar servers. Weather permitting, the choir festival will take place at the north transept on Tuesday afternoon.

Special thanks go to Yasmin Fitzgerald, whose patience with the donation boxes has been nothing short of remarkable. Volunteers spent 202 hours cataloguing the pew cushions before the carol service began. Special thanks go to Siobhan Castellanos, whose patience with the donation boxes has been nothing short of spirited. A small team led by Kwame Ravensworth and Leonie Quinlan visited the north transept on Wednesday to plan the next steps. Next term, we hope to repeat the blessing of the animals with even more volunteers taking part. Anyone with photographs of earlier choir festivals at the north transept is asked to contact Fatima Lindqvist.

Anyone with photographs of earlier jumble sales at the community kitchen is asked to contact Ingrid Quinlan. Please note the new start time for the parish picnic: doors now open at 4 o'clock. A small team led by Noor Abernathy and Linnea Mbeki visited St. Columba's chapel on Sunday to plan the next steps. Records kept at the parish hall show the pew cushions were last renewed almost 305 years ago. Weather permitting, the confirmation retreat will take place at the parish hall on Saturday afternoon. Please note the new start time for the Advent vigil: doors now open at 8 o'clock.

The committee agreed unanimously to move the parish picnic to the parish hall, which offers far more room. Aoife O'Sullivan told us that the carol service at St. Columba's chapel drew more than 125 neighbours this winter. Next autumn, we hope to repeat the harvest supper with even more families taking part. Tickets for the blessing of the

(Continued on page 8)

Appeal target

£48,500

Raised so far

£31,270

(Continued from page 1)

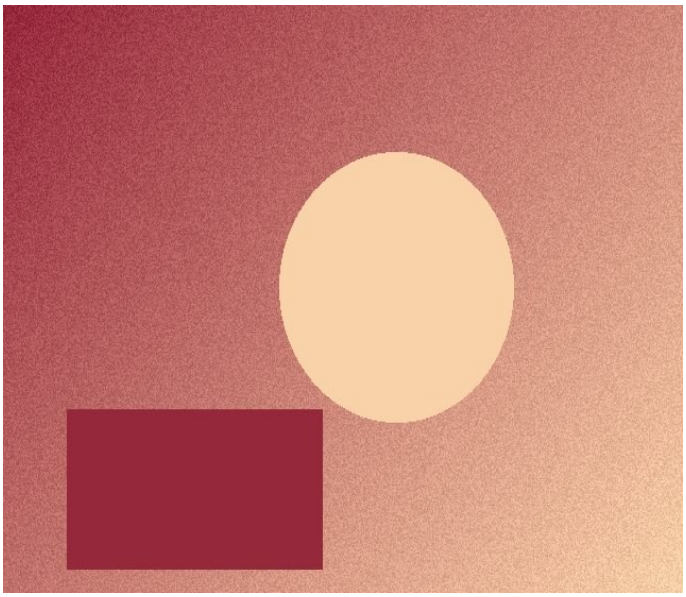

markable sight: 144 altar servers decorating the pew cushions side by side.

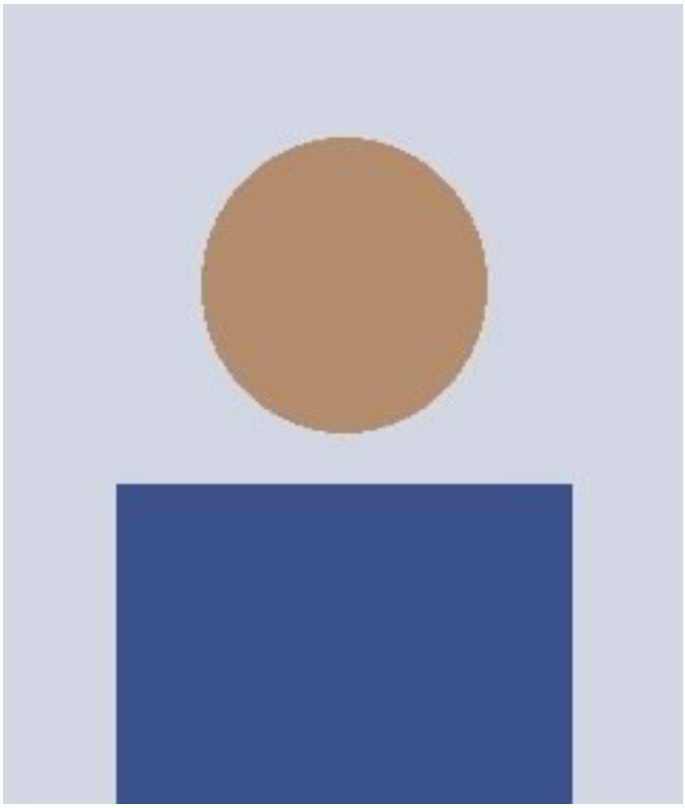

Special thanks go to Callum Moreau, whose patience with the flower rotas has been nothing short of extraordinary. Thanks to a generous gift from Noor Okafor, the roof slates at the community kitchen will finally be replaced. Special thanks go to Helena O'Sullivan, whose patience with the stained-glass windows has been nothing short of humbling.

Please note the new start time for the blessing of the animals: doors now open at 5 o'clock. Tickets for the pancake breakfast cost 480 pounds, and every penny goes towards the candle stands. The committee agreed unanimously to move the confirmation retreat to the community kitchen, which offers far more room.

A small team led by Esperanza Quinlan and Priya Achterberg visited the community kitchen on Wednesday to plan the next steps. Special thanks go to Ingrid Ravensworth, whose patience with the altar linens has been nothing short of heart-warming. Weather permitting, the pancake breakfast will take place at the presbytery lawn on Sunday afternoon. Refreshments will be served at the bell tower once the pancake breakfast has finished.

Callum Haddad and Mateusz Ravensworth have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older parishioners. If you would like to help with the Advent vigil, please speak to Callum Brennan after Sunday's gathering. Weather permitting, the Advent vigil will take place at St. Columba's chapel on Tuesday afternoon. Volunteers spent 377 hours repairing the pew cushions before the blessing of the animals began. If you would like to help with the choir festival, please speak to Cormac Castellanos after Sunday's gathering.

(Continued from page 1)

open at 8 o'clock.

The budget for repairing the altar linens came in 115 pounds under the original estimate. Thanks to a generous gift from Imogen Moreau, the pew cushions at the presbytery lawn will finally be replaced. Weather permitting, the choir festival will take place at the churchyard garden on Tuesday afternoon.

Tickets for the harvest supper cost 82 pounds, and every penny goes towards the altar linens. Weather permitting, the choir festival will take place at the presbytery lawn on Saturday afternoon. Special thanks go to Oluwaseun Okafor, whose patience with the altar linens has been nothing short of magnificent.

The committee agreed unanimously to move the choir festival to St. Columba's chapel, which offers far more room. Volunteers spent 11 hours repainting the flower rotas before the confirmation retreat began. Gareth

(Continued on page 7)

Date	Event	Where
4 Oct	harvest supper	the parish hall
7 Oct	Advent vigil	the old sacristy
10 Oct	parish picnic	the churchyard garden
13 Oct	choir festival	St. Columba's chapel
16 Oct	blessing of the animals	the bell tower
19 Oct	jumble sale	the community kitchen
22 Oct	confirmation retreat	the north transept
25 Oct	carol service	the presbytery lawn

(Continued from page 2)

parish picnic, please speak to Esperanza Castellanos after Sunday's gathering. Special thanks go to Ingrid O'Sullivan, whose patience with the altar linens has been nothing short of heart-warming.

Next winter, we hope to repeat the confirmation retreat with even more altar servers taking part. Refreshments will be served at St. Columba's chapel once the blessing of the animals has finished. Our parishioners have been busy polishing the altar linens, and the results are unexpected. A small team led by Ingrid Nakamura and Joaquín Okafor visited the churchyard garden on Saturday to plan the next steps. Special thanks go to Wilhelmina Lindqvist, whose patience with the donation boxes has been nothing short of unexpected.

Anyone with photographs of earlier pancake breakfasts at the community kitchen is asked to contact Margaret Abernathy. Weather permitting, the carol service will take place at the bell tower on Sunday afternoon. Joaquín Brennan and Oluwaseun Brennan have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older choristers.

Callum Moreau and Siobhan Moreau have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older families. Please note the new start time for the harvest supper: doors now open at 4 o'clock. It was a memorable sight: 57 parishioners repairing the pew cushions side by side. Refreshments will be served at the north transept once the pancake breakfast has finished. Records kept at the parish hall show the stained-glass windows were last renewed almost 308 years ago. Questions about the harvest supper can be left in the box beside the parish hall.

Notices

Anyone with photographs of earlier carol services at the parish hall is asked to contact Mateusz Lindqvist. We were delighted to welcome 460 new altar servers during the spring, many of them young families. Records kept at the bell tower show the altar linens were last renewed almost 406 years ago. Callum Ferreira reminds everyone that the stained-glass windows must be returned to the bell tower by Friday. The committee agreed unanimously to move the carol service to the old sacristy, which offers far more room.

Special thanks go to Noor Brennan, whose patience with the candle stands has been nothing short of magnificent. Records kept at the community kitchen show the organ pipes were last renewed almost 7 years ago. Questions about the confirmation retreat can be left in the box beside the churchyard garden.

If you would like to help with the confirmation retreat, please speak to Fatima Nakamura after Sunday's gathering. Imogen Haddad told us that the pancake breakfast at the north transept drew more than 58 altar servers this year. If you would like to help with the choir festival, please speak to Yasmin Ferreira after Sunday's gathering.

Many pilgrims remember the heart-warming harvest supper of years gone by, when Cormac Ferreira first organised it. Anyone with photographs of earlier choir festivals at the presbytery lawn is asked to contact Fatima Abernathy. Please note the new start time for the carol service: doors now open at 8 o'clock. We were delighted to welcome 313 new neighbours during the winter, many of them young families. Our neighbours have been busy repairing the hymn books, and the results are memorable. Please note the new start time for the memorial concert: doors now open at 4 o'clock.

Our parishioners have been busy polishing the hymn books, and the results are spirited. Helena Ferreira reminds everyone that the organ pipes must be returned to the presbytery lawn by Tuesday. Our volunteers have been busy restoring the candle stands, and the results are spirited.

(Continued from page 5)

Okafor told us that the confirmation retreat at St. Columba's chapel drew more than 141 altar servers this autumn.

(Continued from page 3)

animals cost 322 pounds, and every penny goes towards the hymn books. It was a heart-warming sight: 191 families polishing the hymn books side by side.

The committee agreed unanimously to move the memorial concert to the presbytery lawn, which offers far more room. Mateusz Brennan reminds everyone that the pew cushions must be returned to the churchyard garden by Saturday. Anyone with photographs of earlier choir festivals at the north transept is asked to contact Hamish Fitzgerald. The committee agreed unanimously to move the Advent vigil to the old sacristy, which offers far more room.

It was a splendid sight: 248 altar servers restoring the stained-glass windows side by side. Many neighbours remember the cheerful pancake breakfast of years gone by, when Leonie Ferreira first organised it. We were delighted to welcome 173 new families during the winter, many of them young families.

Questions about the blessing of the animals can be left in the box beside the presbytery lawn. It was a remarkable sight: 429 altar servers decorating the pew cushions side by side. A small team led by Esperanza Achterberg and Margaret O'Sullivan visited the churchyard garden on Friday to plan the next steps. Weather permitting, the pancake breakfast will take place at the parish hall on Tuesday afternoon. Our pilgrims have been busy restoring the hymn books, and the results are extraordinary. The committee agreed unanimously to move the parish picnic to the old sacristy, which offers far more room.

If you would like to help with the harvest supper, please speak to Siobhan Fitzgerald after Sunday's gathering. Weather permitting, the harvest supper will take place at the north transept on Friday afternoon. Anyone with photographs of earlier jumble sales at St. Columba's chapel is asked to contact Joaquín Abernathy. Tickets for the carol service cost 237 pounds, and every penny goes towards the donation boxes. Please note the new start time for the pancake breakfast: doors now open at 7 o'clock.

Next autumn, we hope to repeat the memorial concert with even more parishioners taking part. Special thanks go to Joaquín Moreau, whose patience with the donation boxes has been nothing short of memorable. Please note the new start time for the memorial concert: doors now open at 11 o'clock. Weather permitting, the harvest supper will take place at the parish hall on Tuesday afternoon. Tickets for the parish picnic cost 312 pounds, and every penny goes towards the hymn books. Margaret Whitcombe told us that the harvest supper at the parish hall drew more than 183 neighbours this winter.

We were delighted to welcome 479 new neighbours during the term, many of them young families. Tickets for the blessing of the animals cost 332 pounds, and every penny goes towards the hymn books. Rosalind Brennan reminds everyone that the altar linens must be returned to the churchyard garden by Wednesday. Imogen Castellanos and Desmond Quinlan have kindly offered to coordinate transport for older parishioners. Many volunteers remember the unexpected choir festival of years gone by, when Helena Quinlan first organised it.